Moving beyond ODF
Preparing Not-for-Profits for Swachh Bharat Mission – 2.0

An online training program for NGOs/ CBOs/ CSOs personnel who wish to collaborate towards the SBM-2.0 (urban) vision

Date: 07-11 March 2022 (4 pm to 6 pm)
5 Days online training

Need for the training:
The government of India has recently launched Swachh Bharat Mission (SBM) 2.0 for both urban and rural areas of the country. Unlike Phase-1 of the mission, where the focus was on eradicating open defecation and scientific management of solid waste, SBM 2.0 (urban) focuses on three key aspects:

- Sustaining the ODF status and increasing the penetration of Individual Household Latrines (IHHL).
- 100% management of solid waste throughout its value chain.
- Holistic management of fecal sludge and used water generated.

For the first time, small towns (with less than 1 lakh population) receive funds and solutions to tackle their urban sanitation challenges at par with larger cities.

SBM-2.0 has also emphasised the role of NGOs/ CBOs/ CSOs in supporting local governments to plan and implement various components of this mission. It also states that these institutions shall form the necessary bridge between local governments and citizens, thereby taking forward the success of Jan-Andolan as an implementation strategy.
